EVANVILLE'S RENAISSANCE.
A Bookkeeper, in a fit of jealousy, attempted to shoot his wife.

By Telegraph to the Post-Dispatch.
EVANVILLE, Ind., May 11.—Last night about 10 o'clock Gus Meyer, bookkeeper for the Heilmann Plow Co., an extensive manufacturing concern in this city, created quite a sensation by attacking his wife with a revolver and a young man who is paying attention to her. It seems that Meyer was walking along the street and at once espied his late wife in a buggy in company with a young man, David H. Meyer, who was sitting on the street and stopped the pair and attempted to drag the woman from the buggy. This was prevented by the young man, who then drew his pistol and fired at Meyer. Meyer then drew his pistol and fired at the young man. The woman fled in a panic. Meyer then drew his pistol and fired at the young man. Meyer then drew his pistol and fired at the young man. Miss Julia Willard Asks for the Release of Her Insane Sister.
CHICAGO, Ill., May 11.—Miss Julia A. Willard filed a petition in the Circuit Court yesterday asking that her sister, Dora Willard, be released from the Cook County Insane Asylum. The petition gives as reasons that the asylum was built for 600 patients and is overcrowded by 1,000; that the food is poor and scanty; that proper care and treatment cannot be given and is not given; that the inmates are crowded together with the ravings. Miss Willard says that her sister, Dora, is a woman of 40 years of age, of sane mind, and as a consequence she has been to the asylum. The court granted an order summoning the superintendent to appear and show cause why the petition should not be granted.

BARNIE ON BASE BALL.

THE BALTIMORE PRESIDENT DISCUSSES THE NATIONAL GAME.

Cincinnati, Brooklyn, Baltimore and St. Louis the Association Winners Yesterday—League Games—Bating at Louisville, Nashville and Baltimore—McLaughlin and Terra Cotta Reinstated—Sporting News.

RESIDENT BARNIE, Vice-President Walts and the Baltimore team arrived here this morning from Kansas City and are quartered at the Lindell Hotel. They defeated the Cowboys three straight games and are now second in the championship race. Both the officers and the members of the team are feeling pretty jubilant over the showing they have been making, but Mr. Barnie will make no prediction as to where the club will eventually stand. He says the Kansas City croakers have a peculiar way of keeping score.

"It is next to impossible," he remarked, "for a man to make an error these days. It is a base hit. Why, that man Long will lead the country in batting the way they score. No matter how he reaches base, so he gets there, it is a base hit. They give him three and four hits every game. If he makes one the paper will say out next day with about three for him. He is a hard, splendid hitter, however, and is unquestionably the greatest shortstop in the country, being no less than a power. No matter where you hit the ball he is there. Why, he actually goes out into left field and throws me anything first on base hits. I never saw anything like it. He is simply wonderful! And best of all he is not at all conceited. He takes the best of care of himself and tells me he is in bed every night before 11 o'clock. We ought to have won that first game at Kansas City, too, but made some very bad and costly errors which lost it. Nevertheless the Kansas City croakers did not give us any errors, and counted the runs as earned. Our club never drew so well in Baltimore as it has this season. We were put down by the croakers, but they were not as good as we are. They are really put us down as leaders of the second four clubs, but classed us with them and left us only one of the four leaders. Now we are in second place in the race and in a very pleasant and comfortable position. We are going to be placed away down and work up there in the better way. He pitched for us both yesterday and the day before, and can keep on pitching every day when his arm is in condition."

Yesterday's Games.
Mark Baldwin again essayed to pitch for Columbus yesterday, but the Browns batted him very hard. After five innings he gave way to Gaitsright and People took Bligh's place behind the bat. The Athletics pitched for the Browns, and as the game was then won Devin was put in and also strove very hard. He pitched for the Browns, caught the last two innings, but so nervous that he could not even throw the ball straight. LEAGUE GAMES.
Tim Keefe, who has finally signed with the New York Giants, pitched for the Athletics yesterday, and the Giants downed the Athletics by a score of 7 to 6. Ewing was his backstop, and Rube Foster and Gabe Hart were the pitchers. Base hits: New York, 14; Athletics, 10. Errors: Athletics, 5. In a six-inning contest the Washingtons shut out the Philadelphia's, the score being 3 to 0. The game was a very close one, but the Philadelphia's were the better team. Philadelphia's base hits: Washington, 2; Philadelphia, 4. Errors: Washington, 2; Philadelphia, 4.

Indianapolis beat Cleveland 5 to 4. Bat-teries: Boyce and Meyers for Indianapolis; and Grubbs and Zimmer for Cleveland. Base hits: Indianapolis, 6; Cleveland, 10. Errors: Indianapolis, 2; Cleveland, 3. Chicago downed Pittsburgh yesterday by a score of 10 to 5. The game was a very close one, but the Chicago's were the better team. Chicago's base hits: Pittsburgh, 4; Chicago, 14. Errors: Pittsburgh, 4; Chicago, 3.
